Franklin Pierce, President of the United States of America.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Satisfactory evidence having been exhibited to joy such functions, powers, and privileges as are allowed to the Consuls of the most favored nations in the United States.

In testimony whereof, I have caused these letters to be made patent, and the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed.

Given under my hand, at the city of Washington, the 5th day of July, A. D. 1853, [L. s.] and of the independence of the United States of America the seventy-eighth.

FRANKLIN PIERCE.

By the President: W. L. Mancy, Secretary of State.

Warsh and Mississippi Railroad.—We learn from Warsaw that the stockholders of this railroad company met at that place on Friday last and organized. About $300,000 of stock were represented, and $200,000 more were taken; but, in consequence of some informality in the subscription, that amount was not voted. The irregularity will be immediately corrected, and will show a capital of half a million of dollars to begin with, without any very great exertion having yet been made in favor of the road.

The following gentlemen were elected directors of the company, viz: John W. Ingersoll and J. H. Stipp, of Canton; Thomas M. Gill, of Pekin; Albert S. White, of Lafayette, Indiana; and William H. Roosevelt, of Warsaw.

The board then proceeded to elect Benjamin Kellogg, jr., secretary; James Haines, of Pekin, treasurer; and John W. Ingersoll, president protess. It is designed, we presume, to make Albert S. White, of Lafayette, who has had great experience in such enterprises, the president of the company. WABASH AND MISSISSIPPI RAILROAD.—We lear

At Warsaw and Keokuk great interest is manifested in the success of this road. The gentlemen in attendance from abroad were invited to public entertainments in both towns, and at Keokuk two hundred persons sat down to dinner.

Washington Volunteers.—The Harrisburg Fountain of Monday says:

"The 'glorious Fourth' was celebrated with more than usual spirit by our citizens. The prominent feature in the commemoration of the day was the imposing military display by the 'National Guard' of Harrisburg, and the 'Walker Sharpshooters' of Washington city. Both companies presented a handsome appearance, and acquitted themselves creditably. The presence of the 'Sharpshooters' added much to the interest of the occasion, and their true soldier-like bearing and gentlemanly deportment when off duty was the subject of general commendation. They received a cordial welcome and hospitable entertainment at the hands of the 'National Guard' and our citizens generally."

A rumor comes to us from over the sea that Jenny Lind Goldschmidt is again to grace the operatic stage. The Briton correspondent of the London Morning Chronicle writes:

"If there be any truth in an assertion of the

"The Lina is sure to return to the stage, and from two opposite causes, love and revenge."
"How so," demanded the other. "Why," retorted the maestro, "if she should be disappointed in her husband, and not find the domestic happiness she anticipates, she will seek for consolation and revenge in public applause; whereas, if she be happy and continue to love her husband, who be happy and continue to love her husband, who has a turn for composition, she will seek to satisfy her vanity and affection by urging him to write an opera, and she will appear in the first part, in order to insure its success, be its good or bad."

DESTRUCTIVE INSECTS.-A correspondent of DESTRUCTIVE INSECTS.—A correspondent of the Boston Transcript, M. H. Simpson, of Saxon ville, writes to that paper that he has discovered a new worm upon the apple, cherry, and plum trees, eating the leaves and fruit. It is very destructive to the tender shoots as well as the fruit, and the writer says, that if all the worms go through their transformation, the next generation will be in such swarms as to destroy the trees. If the trees be shaken, the worms spin a fine fibre towards the ground, and remain suspended by it, ascending again afterwards to commence anew their ravages. They are described as having three longitudinal stripes on the back; the centre is fainter than the other two; and the head is buff-colored and heart-shaped. These destructive insects are spreading through Massachusetts and the adjoining States. Already they have had two generations this season. As a means of destroying them, Mr. Simpson recommends the syringing of the trees with whale-oil soap when the worm is first hatched. ascending again afterwards to commence anew

THE HIPPODROME.-It turns out that Franc is a man of straw. Upon the occasion of the re-cent inquest upon the body of Miss Taylor, in New York, who came to her death from injuries New York, who came to her death from injuries received at the Hippodrome, a man named Seth Howe testified that Avery Smith and Richard Sands, of New York; Jared Crane, of Laurens, New York; William Howe, of North Salem, New York; and himself (Seth Howe) were the owners and proprietors of the "Hippodrome."

BALTIMORE CORRESPONDENCE.

Departure of the President-The Speeches-Eastern Ice-Church Notice-Stock Board, &c. BALTIMORE, July 12, 1853.

The President and suite took their departure me that JEAN ZULAUF has been appointed Consul for Wilmington at half-past 8 o'clock this mornof the Swiss Confederation at Louisville, in the State of Kentucky, for that State and the States of Ohio and Indiana, I do hereby recognise him and the Hon. Reverdy Johnson. He did not atas such, and declare him free to exercise and en-joy such functions, powers, and privileges as are city at 11 o'clock last night, which accordingly proved rather a dull affair, though Messrs. Guthrie and Davis were present.

The speeches made by the President and Secre taries last evening rather lowered them all in the estimation of our more intelligent citizens. They contained a great deal that was considered out of place as to time and occasion, and indeed the whole was rather of light-artillery order than of the substantial and weighty character that is expected from those holding positions that should be filled by statesmen of the first order. The speech of Mr. Cushing was decidedly the best, and contained something more than mere common-place compliments.

There was a general surprise among our citi tens to find the President so young a man; but few, except those who were present at the inau-guration, having before had an opportunity of see-ing him. Since the death of Henry Clay and General Jackson there seems to be but little of that old-fashioned political enthusiasm which made the welkin ring at the sight of either o them; and there was no indication of a revival of it yesterday—all passed off in comparative quiet, considering that there was probably 100,-000 persons assembled along the route of the procession, curious for a sight of the President. The vestry of St. Luke's Protestant Church, now being finished, have elected to the rectorship the Rev. C. W. Rankin, pastor of St. Peter's Church, Morristown, New Jersey. The eastern ice dealers are beginning to mo-

VAGRANCY IN ENGLAND .- The census of 1851. in England, shows that, on the night when the census was taken, more than thirty thousand persons were destitute of a roof to cover them Fourteen thousand of these, in round numbers operatic stage. The Briton correspondent of the London Morning Chronicle writes:

"If there be any truth in an assertion of the Dresden Echo, the prophecy of an illustrious composer to the effect that Madame Lind Goldschmidt would again appear on the stage, is likely to be realized. The Echo says that Jenny is to take the heroine's part in Goldschmidt's Tochterlein, (Little Daughter.) Upwards of a year since the great composer alluded to observed to a friend, "The Lind is sure to return to the stage, and from two opposite causes, love and revenge."

"How so," demanded the other. "Why," retorted the maestro, "if she should be disappointed in her husband, and not find the domestic happiness she anticipates, she will seek for consolation. considered the wealthest in Christendom! For there are twenty vagrants, doubtless, in the workhouses, where there is one who has managed to elude the law; and there are twenty persons suffering, more or less, from indigence, for every single vagrant in the poor-house. It is only when we look at the subject in a light like this that we realize how terrible is the destitution in England. Thirty thousand persons without a roof to sleep under—what a fact to go down in history as a picture of the nineteenth century!

LOCAL MATTERS.

PROPERTY SALES .- McGuire, auctioneer, sold on Monday the lot on the corner of Eleventh street west and G street south, (Island,) having front of fifty feet, and a depth of one hundred and twenty-five feet, with the improvements, consisting of a brick three-story house and back building, known as the Steamboat Hotel, at $3,600.

Green & Scott, auctioneers, sold yesterday af-ternoon Mr. Plant's three-story brick house and the lot on which it stands, on D street north, between Ninth and Tenth streets west. The pro perty fronts on D street thirty feet, with a depth of one hundred and eighty-eight feet. Purchase price $5.900.

MILITARY HALL, -Our military companies have long experienced the want of a commodious hall for nighly drilling, armories, &c., like those which exist in other cities; and on the late regimental parade the subject was brought to the attention of the President, who signified his appreciation of its necessity and intention to invite the consideration of Congress to the matter. In the meantime, we are informed that the capacious and admirably-adapted hall in Copp's Pavilion, Louisiana avenue, has been secured by several of our compa-nies for the purpose of drilling, while well-ar-ranged side rooms have been prepared for armories, and a capacious adjoining room for company meetings. The new cavalry corps, "The President's Horse Guards," Captain Peck, occupied it last evening for their first weekly drill. The Montgomery Guards, Captain Key, and German Yagers, Captain Schwarzmann, also contemplate having weekly drills at the "Military Hall."

THE PRESIDENT'S HOUSE is undergoing extensive repairs. The furniture has been entirely removed from nearly all of the rooms, to be supplanted, for the greater part, by new, and of such styles as to surpass all previous arrangements Additional flues have been constructed for heating purposes, and every thing that comfort can auggest is to be supplied. There always exists among the statesmen of the country an ambition to take up a residence in the White House, but just now an absence from it would seem to be desirable, because of the "noise and confusion" of the mechanical operations, which involve brick, nortar, lumber, and paint, beside other items which enter into the programme. A peep upward, through the crevices of the flooring of the scaffolding in the East and other rooms, discover to the eye some of the artistic performances on the ceilings, which have been beautifully fres coed; the cornices, panels, and rich moulding being heavily adorned with gold-leaf.

We have not been informed of all the contemplated improvements; but, judging the whole by a part, the interior of the Executive mansion will, when they shall have been completed, present a far more brilliant appearance than heretofore to the "sovereigns" who may resort thither.

Fac-Simile Bridal Care.—Several weeks ago there was presented to President Pierce, by Mrs. Parkinson, of Philadelphia, a fac-simile of the bridal cake of the Emperor of the French. The bride-cake of the imperial marriage, of which this was a representation, was made by a London manufacturer. The design consists of a group of conucopiæ, pouring out beautiful flowers, emblematic of peace and plenty, and surmounted by a vase elegantly curved, with the eagles of France for supporters. The bouquet for the centre of the vase contained the fleur de lis, intertwined with the Spanish jasmine and Irish shamrock, overshadowed by the eagle's feathers. The other ornaments of the cake contained the shields of the FAC-SIMILE BRIDAL CAKE.—Several weeks ago naments of the cake contained the shields of the CLARK MILLS, the sculptor, has, we learn, purchased a farm three miles and a half from the city, on the line of the railroad, whither he has emoved his elks, buffalo, and other living models, and where he intends to locate his studio and erect manufacturing works required by his profession.

MARY GRAY, a free negress of about fourteen years of age, was convicted of robbing her employer of divers sums of money, which she did by ntering his bed-room at night and taking it from his pocket-book, was sent down to the penitentiary for one year.

Robert Holloway, a free negro, was convicted of stealing a watch from a house in the First Ward, where he was employed as a laborer by persons engaged in building an addition thereto The watch being of but small value, the prisoner was sent to jail for six months.
